As We Are Getting Older You Might Have One of These Days....

This is how it manifests:

I decide to water my garden. As I turn on the hose in the driveway I look over at my car and decide it needs washing and as I start toward the garage I notice mail on the porch table that I brought up from the mailbox earlier.

So, go through the mail before I wash the car. I lay my car keys on the table, put the junk mail in the garbage can under the table, and notice that the can is full.

So, I decide to put the bills back on the table and take out the garbage first but then I think, since I'm going to be near the mailbox when I take out the garbage anyway, I may as well pay the bills first. I take my checkbook off the table, and see that there is only one check left. My extra checks are in my desk in the study.

So I go inside the house to my desk where I find the can of Coke I'd been drinking. I'm going to look for my checks, but first I need to push the Coke aside so that I don't accidentally knock it over. The Coke is getting warm, and I decide to put it in the refrigerator to keep it cold. As I head toward the kitchen with the Coke, a vase of flowers on the counter catches my eye--they need water. I put the Coke on the counter and discover my reading glasses that I've been searching for all morning. I decide I better put them back on my desk, but first I'm going to water the flowers. I set the glasses back down on the counter, fill a container with water and suddenly spot the TV remote. Someone left it on the kitchen table. I realize that tonight when we go to watch TV, I'll be looking for the remote, but I won't remember that it's on the kitchen table, so I decide to put it back in the den where it belongs, but first I'll water the flowers. I pour some water in the flowers, but quite a bit of it spills on the floor. So, I set the remote back on the table, get some towels and wipe up the spill.

Then, I head down the hall trying to remember what I was planning to do. At the end of the day:

The car isn't washed,
The bills aren't paid,
There is a warm can of Coke sitting on the counter,
The flowers don't have enough water,

There is still only 1 check in my check book,
I can't find the remote,
I can't find my glasses,
and I don't remember what I did with the car keys.

Then, when I try to figure out why nothing got done today, I'm really baffled because I know I was busy all day, and I'm really tired.
I realize this is a serious problem, and I'll try to get some help for it, but first I'll check my e-mail....

One Day They Be Not Us

We were watching the Last of the Mohicans the other night, of which the remake with Daniel Day-Lewis is excellent by the way, when something Chingachkook said struck me. He said, talking about the vanishing of the Indians, "One day there will be no more or they be not us".

That got me thinking of the state of the Christian community in this country today. With the changing of the meaning of the scriptures or the ignoring of God's Word in some of our churches and the political correctness that creeps in and upturns God's intentions we are seeing much the same.

If this keeps up and man keeps making up his own ideas to fit his "feelings" the Christian community will "One day be no more OR they be not us". There will be no resemblance to a true Christian's life style. If you want to stay on the "right" side of The Lord, I implore you to join a church that follows the written word of God as it was handed down years ago.

Always looking up,
gt

JESUS THE MASTER BUILDER

Was thinking of Jesus and how He was and is a master builder. Even when in the “old testament”, or Torah, Jesus was first foretold in prophecies He was building; building hope of freedom in the minds of those who believed in the words of the prophets.

When He was just born and a baby He was building; building dreams of completion of all the tales told relating to the Messiah.

As a young man Jesus of Nazareth was a carpenter; physically building items for those that needed them.

When He started His ministry as a teacher He was a builder; building courage, morals and character in those who heard and heeded His words.

Even when He left His mortal existence He builds through His words as recorded in the Bible. Building all that is good in mankind.

And for those that follow Him, if it is the same for you, you know what building is taking place through His Holy Spirit within you and in your lives.

Thank you Lord for the building; You found in me a broken vessel and are repairing the damage I have created throughout the years. Thank You most High and I am sorry it took me so long to get on that narrow path to You; Father, Son and Spirit.

Your Cracked Pot,
